

In 2011 I had a total shoulder replacement (done elsewhere) that was painful and immobile from the beginning. Physical therapy was unsuccessful and the surgeon kept telling me that nothing was wrong with the shoulder replacement. I came to Scranton Orthopedics 9 months later for a second opinion with Dr. Tracy. He was confident in assessing my problem and that he would be able to help me regain some motion in my shoulder. While he could not be certain of the amount of surgical work my shoulder would require, he was prepared and shared with me every possible outcome that might occur during surgery. My surgery to revise the total shoulder replacement was lengthy but without complications. My recovery has been slow and steady and my mobility is quite promising. Dr. Tracy's confidence is only surpassed by his competence in the OR. I would highly recommend Dr. Tracy spent a great deal of time explaining the surgery, potential outcome and answered all of my questions in a confident and professional manner. The staff at Scranton Orthopedics was superior as well. They were accommodating and courteous. Overall, my experience was outstanding; I only wish I came here first.
